

Carol Albers and Adopt Abroad is an agency that we would highly recommend to anyone that needs help and guidance thru their home study process!

We are a military family and are currently stationed on Okinawa Japan. We needed to find a Social Worker quickly and a friend had recommended Carol.

Carol Albers agreed to revise our home study on very short notice and with urgency.

She not only accepted the job, but she was extremely supportive and patient with us during the process.

She openly answered all of our questions and concerns, and communicated well with our previous Social Worker as well as our new adoption agency.

She is a rare find in the ever-changing world of international adoption, and we feel very lucky to have her.

Whether doing a home study from the start or revising one that you already have, we would highly recommend hiring Adopt Abroad and Carol Albers.

It's comforting to know she is in your corner and is using her expertise to help families thru the process.
