

We began our adoption journey in March of 2007. We chose Carol Albers and Adopt Abroad to provide our homestudy services. We live in Belgium, and Carol traveled up from Germany to see us. I liked her right away. She was very professional, and at the same time put out whole family at ease. We found her very knowledgeable in the area of International Adoption. She asked us many questions, as well as provided us with lots of information. She spent time talking to each member of our family. She had great suggestions and advice and helped us to understand the ins and outs of the adoption process. We are beginning our second International Adoption, and feel fortunate that we will be able to use Carol Albers as a provider for our home study once more.
